

I am a former employee and current shareholder in XO.

I won't take your valuable time, as there are plenty of lawyers for that, but what they are doing is nothing short of robbery. I trusted my management and the board to act responsibly, and they sold us down the river.

My lone hope is that the SEC or FCC can rein in such behavior - and I hope there are personal penalties, as well.